

Enclosure “C”

CONTENT OF THE CURRICULUM VITAE

The curriculum vitae of the candidate must contain in-depth information on their personal and professional characteristics.

In particular:

- personal details;
- training, with detail of the qualifications and certification achieved and the training received;
- professional experience, with detail of the activities carried out in each of the same (name and type of organisation care of which the activities have been carried out, nature and duration of the activities), in particular highlighting the professional experience acquired in sectors pertaining to financial services;
- corporate offices recovered (indicating the executive ones) including those in entities (associations, foundations, non-profit bodies) which do not mainly pursue commercial objectives.